

Wanting to create a style and elegance of its own, this screen is made from 10mm heat-toughened glass panels. It is totally frameless, no frames or channels. The panels are attached with precisely engineered high quality chrome plated patch fittings that connect to holes in the glass panels.

Installation requires several days and some bracing is essential to maintain the integrity of the finished enclosure. The non-moving panel's joints are silicone sealed. Gaps are necessary to allow the screen to function, optional plastic seals are available to reduce the water that escapes through those gaps. It is essential that the fall to the waste of the shower floor is adequate to prevent flooding.

This screen is truly a statement of quality in any bathroom.

10mm Fully Frameless Showerscreen

